Fifty and Beyond News

The Langruth Seniors held their monthly business meeting on May 3rd with six members present. Our next meeting will be on June 7th and will be the last meeting before we break for the summer. Our last monthly supper was held on May 26th. We had a nice turn out with three guests from out of town. If you have guests visiting why not bring them to the seniors supper. The meal is always good and it is enjoyable to get together. Our next supper on June 23rd will be the final supper for the season. Please consider coming out for supper and a visit.

In the Cheer Report, Rena sent out three birthday cards and three sympathy cards last month.

The seniors were invited to the Spring Concert at Langruth Elementary School on May 20th. The concert was arranged by Doris Sigurdson and included performances from her music students, the classroom choirs and speech arts students. It is nice to support the students as they perform their selections. Jane Son and Azaria Neuschwander, pianists from Gladstone, also entertained as guest performers.

The seniors have also been invited to Lakeview Children's Centre for a picnic and crafts on June 7th. A number of seniors will be attending.

The Langruth Fall Fair will be on August 20th. We hope that everyone is planting lots of vegetables and flowers to get ready for that event.

We send our sympathies to Paul and Betty Oswald on the death of Betty's sister Diane. Barbara Woolford's husband, Ken, passed away recently and we send our sympathy to her family. Sympathies also go out to Lois and Ernie Wilson on the passing of their son Kelly. We hope that memories of happy times will help you through the coming days.

I wish you all a happy and peaceful summer.

Talk to you next month, Teri.

Nature Notes

Submitted by Raymond O'Connor

Ruddy Turnstone

The alarm cry of this stout little plover like shorebird alerts other birds to possible danger. It often is seen probing the drift line on beaches, even cleaning up leftovers from beach picnics. Some will take bread from a human hand. In flight the vividly patterned body and wings are unmistakable in bold rusty reds, blacks and white.

The Ruddy Turnstone feeds on insects, mollusks, crustaceans and their eggs, worms and bird eggs. It roots through seaweed and tips over stones, shells, and other things washed up onto shore. Sometimes it eats the discards of birds such as oystercatchers, including carrion. They may eat coconut meat as well. These birds forage alone or in small flocks often mixed with other shorebirds. Other shorebirds may nest near Turnstones to gain protection from predators.

The nest is lined with bits of dry plants, withered leaves, moss, grass, or seaweed in open tundra. The nest is built by the female.

Incubation is 21-24 days by both sexes, but the female does more. The young leave the nest soon after hatching but feed themselves. They are tended by both sexes, but the female leaves before the first flight at 19-21 days. They have one brood per year.

The Ruddy Turnstone can be found along the shores of lakes in the spring.

News From Here, There and Anywhere

Reporter Teri Soos

Hello Everyone! It is time for a little news.

The weather hasn't been the nicest lately. It started out so nice and warm for a couple days but now we are getting quite a bit of rain. Let's hope that from here on in we have a nice summer. We had such a nice winter it is a shame that we haven't had a nicer spring. I am hoping that there will be lots of wild berries this summer as we haven't had many late frosts. I noticed lots of flowers on the bushes and we haven't had a good crop for a number of years. Maybe this will be the year.

Unfortunately there are not too many wild strawberries around anymore. Recently I was reminded of picking wild strawberries in the past. Of course these little berries are low to the ground and you have to pick on your hands and knees. If you are prone to poison ivy there is a good chance you will get it after picking wild strawberries, but they are worth it. I probably won't be picking wild strawberries but maybe some of you will.

I saw someone the other day that is very susceptible to poison ivy. He had it all over his body. He went to the doctor to get something to help him with the itch. Years ago the doctors gave us needles for poison ivy. It certainly did help but apparently they don't use the needle anymore.

I had someone work up my garden and planted it before it rained, though not as early as some others. I hear their gardens are growing beautifully. Mine isn't at that point yet but that is not unusual. Before long I hope to see some plants poking through.

Now that the ice is off the lake we can enjoy the lake and beaches and maybe even catch a feed of fish. You can't beat a feed of fish fresh from our lake. The fish at the recent Fish Fry was excellent.

I was watching television the other night and heard about how the city of Winnipeg will be spraying for mosquitos. One of the people speaking was Louise Bohm, Tom Bohm's wife. She said that when they made sure they didn't have standing water on their property it made a difference on the number of mosquitos around. I guess that is something we should try to do.

Let's wish those feeling under the weather a speedy recovery so they too can enjoy the summer. Well wishes to Liz Johnson, who had the misfortune of breaking her hip recently and to Mildred Armstrong who also hurt her hip. Also to Velma Vereb who hasn't been well. She had spent some time in the hospital in Brandon. We also wish Ryan Bohm a rapid recovery from his illness. His parents, Jim and Maureen, have spent some time in B.C. with him and his family. I just heard on the radio that Prince Philip, who is over 90, is feeling under the weather too. We wish all of you and anyone that I have missed the very best and hope that you are on the road to better health before too long.

Last weekend was the 'All Around Town Yard Sales'. I wasn't feeling up to going out and didn't get to see what was up for sale. I understand that there were a number of people having yard sales. I am hoping that everyone had a good weekend of selling.

The Craiks have had their brother John and his wife Ann visiting. We hope that they are enjoying their holiday and his sisters aren't keeping John too busy. It's nice to have them here.

The UCW Mother's Day Tea was held on May 7th. I won the big Fuchsia plant that someone donated. I am very grateful for this plant and enjoying its lovely flowers. I hope it lasts well into the summer.

Speaking of flowers, the Fall Fair will be in August. The committee will be looking for donations. Maybe you would consider donating or taking part. It is a lovely community event.

There will be a Decoration Day Service on Sunday, June 12th at 2:00 pm. Let's once again remember our fallen soldiers. Their sacrifices have certainly helped us live free and better lives.

I recently had my water meter changed so the meter can apparently be read from outside the house. It didn't take long to make the change. We will no longer have to remember to read our water meters.

Talk to you next time, bye for now,

Teri

Words from the Desk of the Principal

The month of June has arrived. Teachers and students are busily finishing up projects and planning year end activities. The year-end activities are celebrations of accomplishments and also mark entrance to a new and exciting time in one's life. I would like to wish all of our Grade Eight students, Draeden Aitkens, Mathew LacQuette, Lynden McIvor, David Johnson Jr. and Sydney Strocen, all the best as they adventure to a new school and new adventure.

I would like to acknowledge staff members who will not be returning to LES next year for their contributions and welcome new staff to our school. Ms. Kopen will be starting a new career and is not returning next year. Thank-you for all you have accomplished with our students and all the best in your new position. Also, a big thank-you goes to Mrs. McLaughlin for all of her dedication and commitment to the students in her classroom and to all of the students at LES. Finally, I would like to welcome Ms. Ginter to our staff. Ms. Ginter will be the Grade 6-7-8 Homeroom teacher next year.

Mr. Tim Klein
LES Principal

Hello from Ms. Ginter

Hello LES! I am very excited to be joining you in September! I will be the Grade 6 – 8 teacher, as well I will be teaching K-8 Phys-Ed, so I will have the opportunity to know everyone really well!

I've spent the last couple years teaching in Europe and the Middle East. I taught in Kuwait for a short time before making London, England my home for two years. I am a traveler at heart and have travelled to 20 countries! I was very lucky to have the opportunity to teach at Austin Elementary School this past year. I love sports. In the winter I make sure I curl as much as I can, as well as go snowshoeing. In the summer months I play baseball, volleyball and I'm currently learning how to golf. Other hobbies I have are playing piano, scrapbooking and singing karaoke. I am really looking forward to getting to know all of you in September! Have a great summer!

Manitoba Celebrates 50th Anniversary of Province's Flag

http://news.gov.mb.ca/news/

The province recognized the 50th anniversary of the proclamation of the provincial flag with an exhibit in the Manitoba legislative building.

Manitoba's flag was redesigned at the time when the federal government was in the process of replacing the Union Jack with the maple leaf design. The flag's design was unveiled in May 1965; 95 years after Manitoba became the first province to join the original four in Confederation.

The new design included the Royal Union Flag (also known as the Union Jack) and required the Queen's approval. Royal assent was received in October 1965 and the flag was officially proclaimed on May 12, 1966. The new Manitoba flag was raised that day in 2,000 separate ceremonies across the province.
