However it did not come easy and not without the loss of thousands of young Canadian lives.

On this 75th anniversary, the Royal Canadian Legion in Gladstone will be remembering all those who made the ultimate sacrifice that day and all the brave men and women who served during World War II.

All are welcome to attend.

STARS Saves Lives in Manitoba

When a life is on the line and every minute counts STARS Air Ambulance is there for Manitobans. The STARS base in Winnipeg opened in 2011. Over 3,000 missions to more than 170 communities have been flown across the province since STARS launched in Manitoba. This includes 632 missions in the past fiscal year.

During a mission, the STARS helicopter is always staffed with two pilots and the air medical crew, made up of one flight nurse and one paramedic. The Air Medical Crew is required to complete more than 100 hours of training each year. Human patient simulators replicate complex medical and traumatic situations and offer medical personnel an opportunity to practice their reactions and skills.

Each helicopter is equipped to transport one critically injured patient but can be configured to transport two patients in special circumstances. STARS helicopters have a custom-designed medical interior to ensure top-level critical care. STARS is the first air ambulance service in Canada to stock blood in advance for life-saving transfusions on air medical missions.

The STARS' fleet currently consists of eight BK117 helicopters and three AW139 helicopters. One BK117 operates in Manitoba with a spare helicopter available for events or during maintenance periods. The crews are able to land in a variety of locations including highways, parking lots, fields, and other areas free of obstructions such as trees or power poles.

The Operational Outreach Program teaches how emergency responders can access STARS, how to land the helicopter and how to prepare patients for transport. STARS has provided thousands of local partners, including 155 fire departments, across the province with this training.

By supporting STARS you are helping to ensure the next time a patient needs an air ambulance, STARS will be there. You are helping to ensure the crews have the best possible equipment and training available to them. For more information please visit <https://www.stars.ca/>.

Fifty and Beyond News

The Langruth Seniors held their monthly business meeting on May 1st at the Langruth Municipal Office with four members present. Harry Lazor greeted everyone and asked for the various reports. Ann Craik made the motion to pay all the outstanding bills. In our Cheer Report there were two birthday cards sent out this month. There was no correspondence.

Ann Craik had been in touch with Marion Single regarding the Central Plains/Northwest Region meeting on May 7th at Amaranth. Four of us attended. There were a number of people there. We had the meeting and a lovely lunch. We also had some entertainment by someone that sang and played the guitar. There were a number of door prizes as well.

Seniors Day at the Manitoba Agricultural Museum in Austin will be on Tuesday, June 4th. If you are interested in going admission is $18.00 per person. Morning coffee and doughnuts, a cold plate lunch and afternoon coffee and cinnamon bun are included. An escorted tour around the grounds is available. There are a number of things on display. It is a nice outing if you haven't seen it before.

Harry Lazor also reminded us of the Mother's Day Tea which was held on May 11th. They sold plants and baking and had a number of draws. It was a nice outing with your mother or to remember her.

The Senior's Games will be at Swan River this year. I don't know how many will be going but we do wish everyone that goes well.

Our supper in May was on the 23rd. This was the second last supper for the season. We hope as many as possible will come out for our next supper on June 27th. We take two months off during summer. We start having suppers again in September.

Our next general meeting will be on June 5th.

Emily Thompson adjourned the meeting and we then had a lovely lunch.

Talk to you in a month.

Nature Notes

Submitted by Raymond O'Connor

Rose-Breasted Grosbeak

This bird's clear notes are delivered in robin like phrases, but the song is sweet. Males sing constantly, even while sparring to win a female. In flight the male shows rosy red wing linings, a white rump and black-tipped white uppertail coverts. The females flash yellow wing linings. First fall males have less streaking on underparts than females, buffy wash across the breast and rose-red wing linings. First spring males are similar to adult males but with brown edges to the black plumage.

Rose-Breasted Grosbeaks live in solitary or in pairs in the breeding season. They are in flocks in migration and winter. They forage in trees, shrubs and on the ground. They eat seeds, insects, caterpillars, tree flowers, fruits and berries. Hover glean high in trees at branch tips. Females hover glean more than males.

The nest is of twigs, weeds and leaves, lined with fine twigs, rootlets and mammal hair. The nest is in vines, low trees or shrubs, 1 – 5 m above the ground (The nest can be up to 15m above the ground). The nest is mostly built by the female with some help from the male.

The male and female rub bills to display affection during courtship. Incubation is 13-14 days by both sexes. The young are brooded by both sexes but more by the female. They stay in the nest for 9-12 days and are fed by both sexes. The male tends the nest while the female begins a second nesting. There are 1-2 broods per year.

The Rose-Breasted Grosbeak is common to fairly common in deciduous forest, woodland and second growth. It is a common cowbird host and is a migrant.

Icelandic National League of North America Celebrates 100 Years

The Icelandic National League of North America (INLNA) promotes Icelandic culture past and present, supports events that celebrate Icelandic culture and provides an organization for anyone interested in Iceland. The INLNA was founded in Winnipeg in 1919. The 100th anniversary convention was fittingly held in Winnipeg from May 16th to 19th. The conference was held at the Fairmont Hotel and featured music, sagas and cultural events. There presentations ranging from history to textile design, genealogy and Icelandic studies.

Last fall an organizer at Fibrefest invited Kory Jonasson to display his Icelandic wool and products at the convention as a vendor. Lynne Jonasson accompanied him to take in the convention.

Kory and Lynne had 2 enjoyable days of visiting and promoting their wool and sheep products. It was a great opportunity to share experiences with others and learn from the other vendors. They were able to make contacts for distributing their wool and met a couple of other Icelandic sheep breeders in the province who were also at the convention. Other vendors also had a wide array of items with the Icelandic themed products. Lynne brought home a "coffee sock" and coffee!

Kory and Lynne had a number people stop by their booth who had connections to the Langruth area. In true Icelandic fashion the introductions and stories began. They both had a very enjoyable weekend.

News From Here, There and Anywhere

Reporter Teri Soos

Hello Everyone! The weather has been kind of 'iffy' hasn't it? It has been warm one day and cold and windy the next. It seems like it is doing everything but rain. We are finally getting a little rain this morning. It was crackling with thunder this morning but it didn't amount to too much rain. We are hoping for more rain for our gardens, crops and hay. I didn't put a garden in this year as I don't seem to be able to get at it because of my sore leg and back. I guess I will give it up this year even though I bought some potatoes and other seeds. I have to thank my neighbor for cutting my lawn and keeping things trimmed up. I have a couple of old lawn mowers here that I would be willing to sell.

We had one rather warm day a few weeks ago. Of course the next day was cold and windy. I see some of the crops are coming up but they are patchy growing all over the place. Maybe it is only weeds that I am seeing. It certainly is dry I don't know how the crops will grow properly.

My goodness there are places having trouble with fires. Both Calgary and Edmonton are socked in with smoke coming from the north. There were pictures on the news of people wearing face masks because it is so terribly smokey. A number of people have lost their homes in the areas of the fires. It is hard to imagine what these people will face when they return to their properties.

We often complain about our weather but it certainly isn't as bad as what other areas have to deal with. Have you heard of the tornadoes in the states? I can't understand how there can be a tornado night after night. How can people keep rebuilding in the same areas? Maybe they don't have anywhere else to go. It must be disheartening to keep losing your home. Some tornadoes are even hitting Canada.

I hear the bears are back in the area. A neighbor told me that bears have been in his yard and have looked in his window. A number of people have seen families of bears in the country. There seem to be quite a few around. I have only seen a bear once at a distance. If you have children I imagine you are keeping them inside especially around dark. There are precautions we can take to deter the hungry bears from coming into town and onto our properties.

Have you seen that the hummingbirds are back? I was wondering when they would arrive being that it was so cool. There have been quite a number at my feeders since about the 12th of May. The orioles arrived about three weeks ago. They were trying to drink from the hummingbird feeders because I don't have an oriole feeder. They have gone away for now.

Our Mother's Day Tea was on May 11th. Over 30 people attended. There was a plant table and a bake table. I was very lucky and won the lovely purple and white petunia in the plant walk. There have been days where it is almost freezing at night so I have been bringing it in. I also won a centre piece made of live flowers and I won a soft fuzzy owl from the silent auction.

The school age kids performed Toy Story on May 31st. Their instructor, Chris Kitchen, came to teach drama once a week. This year a dance instructor also came from Portage each week. The dance team also performed. A lovely lunch, donated by the families of the cast and dancers, was served during the intermission. There was a nice crowd at the performance. Many came from our neighboring towns. It was a lovely evening.

Have you taken note of all the trees that are in bloom? I guess the few hotter days last week brought the blooms on. I have noticed that the grass is very slow to grow though. The cows are having a hard time finding enough grass.

My sister Mary was out from California for a few weeks. She stayed with Karen in Winnipeg.

Our sister Julia Kelemen was able to get to Winnipeg to spend some time with Mary. They made a trip out to Langruth and were able to go to the cemeteries to visit the gravesites of our family members. They also stopped in to visit Marsha and Ernie Soos. Margaret and Jenny Jonasson came out from Brandon for the day. They stopped in my house for a visit as well. Mary was surprised that there were no leaves on our branches. Our trees are usually fully leaved at this time of year. She mentioned that the trees are not doing that well in California either because of the fires and floods in the last few years. Mary says that her orange and lime trees are finally doing a little better but that is because she has been watering them.

I noticed that the strawberries and other berries are arriving from California. I imagine that a lot of them are being forced to produce because their weather hasn't been ideal for growing.

As I mentioned, it has been very dry. I spoke with someone in the post office who said that the weather usually goes in cycles. Once we are in a dry cycle it will be dry for a few years or if we are in a wet cycle it will be wet for a few years.

I was also talking to him about my sore leg and not being able to get around too well. He thought he knew what the problem was – too many birthdays. I guess he was admitting that we were getting old without actually saying it.

We want to wish anyone celebrating a birthday or anniversary many happy returns of the day.

To those not feeling well we want to wish you a speedy recovery and hope that you are on the mend so you can enjoy the summer.

To those who have lost a family member or friend we send our sympathies. We send sympathy to the Moffat family on the death of Russell. Also to the Johannson family on the loss of Francis Johannson who was living in Calgary. We also send our sympathies to the family of Kurtis Beaulieu who passed away. His family held a wake at their home here in Langruth. To these families we send our condolences and hope that memories of happier times will help through the coming days.

We had a small mission at the Amaranth Catholic Church on May 25th put on by the Christ Youth. Unfortunately, I missed all the yard sales in town. I hope everyone had a good day of selling the things that you didn't need anymore.

Most of our farmers have their crops in. I hope that the rain this week will help them grow properly. The Langruth Fall Fair will be celebrating 65 years this year. Hopefully our gardens and flowers turn out so there is a nice showing at the fair.

That is about all the news that I have right now. Talk to you in a month or so. Bye for now.

Teri Soos

Obituary: Francis Johannson
March 11, 1930 – May 27, 2019

Our beloved father and grandfather, Francis Johannson (Joe), 89, went to be with the Lord on May 27, 2019. Born in 1930 in Big Point, Manitoba, he was one of eight children of Icelandic immigrants. Francis earned his Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics from The University of Manitoba, and later went on to earn a second degree in Education from The University of Calgary. Francis spent his early career in the first wave of oil exploration and seismic geophysics in Alberta, Yukon, and NWT, with Frontier Geophysical, and with the Geographic Survey of Canada. He then went on to a long teaching career, first mathematics at Senator Patrick Burns Junior High School in Calgary, before joining the Faculty of Math and Science at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology, teaching math, physics, and geophysics. Here he spent the next 27 years of his career and made many of his most cherished friendships. In 1962 Francis married his wife, Florence in Calgary, and together they made a loving home and raised two daughters. Francis was a family man, a wonderful husband, father, and grandfather. He will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him.

Francis is predeceased by his wife of 41 years, Florence (2004), and is survived by his daughters Heather Connelly, DVM (Greg Ericson) of Yorba Linda, California and Linda Johannson, MB (Mike Hainault), of Nelson, BC, and one granddaughter.

A Celebration of Life will be held on Saturday, June 8, 2019 at Mountain View Cemetery and Funeral Home in Calgary.
