Cyber Fraud Attacks Municipality

Source: WestLake-Gladstone Press Release,

Neepawa Banner (October 16 and 23, 2020)

Portage Online, Brian Oliver, October 15, 2020

On October 12th the Municipality of Westlake-Gladstone informed taxpayers of a cyber-attack, in which money was electronically stolen from the municipality's operating bank account.

Between December 19, 2019 and January 5, 2020, 47 electronic withdrawals in the amount of approximately $9950 were made. The total loss was approximately $447 000.

The discovery of the missing funds, on January 6, 2020, was acted upon immediately by CAO, Coralie Smith, who contacted Stride Credit Union, the RCMP and council to report the theft.

National security experts have been hired to review the computer logs of both the Municipality and Stride Credit Union. Initial investigations have determined that the funds were sent to an account in Toronto before being sent out of the country. The investigation is ongoing.

The Municipality has made an insurance claim to cover this loss but was denied. The Association of Manitoba Municipalities (AMM) has worked with the insurance provider to ensure coverage for cyber fraud. AMM has offered assistance with legal fees to address this matter.

Stride Credit Union reports that it continuously monitors the digital banking system to minimize these types of cyber-fraud events and to keep its members' privacy and money safe. Stride Credit Union is working with the municipality and IT experts to help determine how the funds were withdrawn.

Council and staff are working with experts that they feel will lead to the recovery of the missing funds. As of November 3rd the municipality has not released any new information to the public.

Nature Notes

Submitted by Raymond O'Connor

Common Grackle

This gregarious bird has expanded its range by adapting to suburban areas. Outside the nesting season, noisy groups roost together at night, often with other species. Juveniles are sooty brown with dark brown eyes.

The Common Grackle is conspicuous. It nests, forages and roosts in groups or flocks all year. Large post nesting season flocks can damage crops and winter flocks may number in the hundreds of thousands. This bird walks on the ground and forages in trees, shrubs, grass and croplands. It may wade into water. The diet consists of insects, worms, caterpillars, fruits, grains, seeds, small rodents, small fish, salamanders, and eggs and nestlings of other birds.

The male displays by fluffing out his shoulder feathers to make a ruffled collar, drooping his wings and singing.

The nest is a bulky mass of stems, sticks, grasses and seaweed with a mud lining. It has a softer lining of feathers, grasses and bits of debris. The nest is high in a tree, in a shrub, set in the marsh, in the hollow of an old tree, under the eave of a building or among highway plantings. It is usually 60 cm to 4 m above the ground (sometimes up to 30.5 m above the ground). The nest is built by the female.

The Common Grackle is monogamous. Some males are polygamous. They are colonial.

Incubation is 13 – 14 days by the female. Young stay in the nest 16 -20 days. They are fed by both sexes. There are 1 – 2 broods per year.

The Common Grackle is abundant and widespread in open areas with scattered trees, open woodlands, agricultural areas, parks and around human habitation.

They are a rare host to cowbird parasitism. The birds feed on crops, making a nuisance in large winter roosts. Sometimes the crops are destroyed.

COVID-19 NOVEL CORONAVIRUS

Reprinted From:

World Health Organization (<https://www.who.int/>),

Province of Manitoba (<https://www.gov.mb.ca>)

The COVID-19 pandemic is still a public health emergency of international concern. As of October 30th over 1.1 million people have lost their lives to COVID-19. As the spread of the virus accelerates, the International Health Regulations (IHR) Emergency Committee urges that the response efforts be based on lessons learned and strong science. The World Health Organization (WHO) continues to work in partnership across the world to drive science, solutions and solidarity.

The COVID-19 virus transmits mainly between close contacts. Outbreaks can be controlled by preventing cases, protecting the vulnerable and empowering, educating and engaging communities. Countries need to be persistent in using the same tools as recommended from day one: find, isolate, test and care for cases, and trace and quarantine their contacts. Countries are proving that these fundamentals work.

The frustration that many people, communities and governments are feeling as the pandemic drags on is mounting. Unfortunately there are no shortcuts. The answer is simply using the tools that have proven to work.

On October 30th Manitoba's chief provincial public health officer, Dr. Brent Roussin, delivered an important and very serious message on the need to halt the growing community transmission of COVID-19 in Manitoba. The announcement included information regarding the Winnipeg Metro Region moving in to the Critical level (red) on the Pandemic Response System as of November 2nd. The rest of the province (Southern Health-Santé Sud, Prairie Mountain Health and Interlake-Eastern Health Regions) moved into the Restricted level (orange) on the Pandemic Response System on November 2nd. The Northern health region had previously moved in the Restricted level on October 26th.

Changes for our local region included public and private group gatherings limited to five (in addition to those in the household), restaurant and bar capacity limited to 50%, blended learning for grades 9 to 12, voluntary blended learning temporarily available for Kindergarten to Grade 8, spectators at sports and recreation facilities reduced to 25%, faith-based gatherings reduced to 20% or 250 people, whichever is lower.

Currently the health system has the capacity to care for the health needs of Manitobans but the current number of COVID cases is expected to cause a surge in the demand on our health system. Facilities are preparing for an increased demand by adding beds to existing areas, preparing to convert existing beds from their current use and identifying staff who can be oriented to new areas.

Manitobans are still encouraged to focus on the fundamentals to slow the spread of COVID-19.

- Stay home if sick.
- Wash/sanitize hands.
- Physical distance.
- Wear a mask if not able to physical distance.
- Reduce number of close contacts.
- Avoid crowded spaces.
- Get a flu shot.

All Manitobans have a role to play in protecting themselves and their communities. The Manitoba government has increased fines to $1296 for individuals and $5000 for businesses who do not follow Manitoba's public health and emergency orders. To reinforce these new deterrents, existing provincial regulations have been amended to enable municipal bylaw enforcement officers to enforce these orders.

News From Here, There and Anywhere

Reporter Teri Soos

Hello again. It is Teri from snowy Gladstone. I'm sure Langruth is starting to look white too. They tell me that the roads and highways are a little slippery because there was some rain with the snow. So be careful.

Many will be staying home this winter because travel is still not recommended or permitted due to COVID precautions. Those that usually escape our snow will have to get used to it and to winter driving again. I'm sure it will be an adjustment not being able to go to places with warmer temperatures.

We have a lot of people with the COVID virus in Manitoba now. Luckily there have been only two cases in Gladstone that we know of. I spoke to someone in Langruth who said she had friends in Winnipeg that had the COVID virus. Apparently it wasn't too severe. It seems strange how some people get it quite badly or hardly at all. In either case, I'm told you still have flu symptoms.

Unfortunately people are still gathering at parties and events and spreading this virus. There are reports of a person who infected a great number of people by not staying home. It is a very sneaky sort of virus that is very easily spread. If at all possible, stay away from crowds and protect yourself by staying home. We have lost so many people already; we need to do our part to help stop the spread of the virus.

I'm sure people in the United States don't know what to do. Their leaders tell them that the cure is just around the corner so the precautions aren't necessary. The reality is that the cure is not around the corner and there isn't a way to stop this virus yet other than keeping our distance from other people. They certainly are getting mixed signals. There are just so many COVID cases and so many deaths due to COVID in the United States; it is hard to understand their thinking.

There are many events that are being cancelled due to the COVID-19 virus. I know many people changed their plans for Thanksgiving. I don't know how people in the United States are going to handle their Thanksgiving. There are people that don't believe that this virus is real. Christmas is next and we are used to getting together with family and friends throughout the season to pass along greetings, gifts and good wishes. This year will certainly be different because of COVID restrictions. Plan accordingly. Unfortunately this virus is not going away for a while.

Did you remember to change your clocks on November 1st? It's that time again to get used to our 'new time'.

We haven't been to church for a while because the lady who drives us is a little fearful of us being exposed to the virus. Of course everyone needs to wear masks now where ever we go, which does help.

There have been a number of COVID cases where people don't realize they have it. Testing for COVID is somewhat difficult because first you need to stand in a lengthy line and wait for a long time. Then the test results take a few days to come back. If you get an appointment in advance you may be able to avoid the long wait.

We will be getting the Flu Shot before too long. Those of us at Centennial Apartments will have flu shots on November 12th. The Langruth Flu Shot Clinic was on November 3rd at the Langruth Community Hall. In Gladstone Flu Shot Clinics will be on November 10th and 26th at Stride Hall. Social distancing and masks are required. Get the flu shot if possible because they tell us that it will help with the COVID virus as well. The symptoms are apparently not as severe if you do happen to contract it. I have been getting the flu shot for many years.

I heard that the Kinosota Game & Fish Association will have a Virtual Awards Night because they can't have their usual awards banquet and dinner. Hopefully they will still receive a number of entries. Unfortunately the Seniors have cancelled their Christmas Dinner evening due to COVID precautions. I'm sure many were looking forward to this evening after so many months of not being able to get together. I haven't heard yet if the community tree lighting night will go ahead or not. You will have to watch for notice of what Christmas events will be held and which have been cancelled. I don't know what is planned for the school and church concerts. Ask around to see what is happening. It will depend on each organization/community and how creative they can get.

To everyone that had a birthday and/or an anniversary we wish you all the best. We hope you had a happy and safe day considering the rules around the COVID-19 virus. I know that there were a lot of birthdays in October because more than ¾ of us in my school grade were born in October. We hope you have many more years to celebrate.

To anyone that is sick in the hospital or not feeling well at home we wish you a speedy recovery and good health as the days go on. I heard some people have had bad ear aches and ear infections lately. If you can imagine I just heard on the news that there are also cases of syphilis on the rise which is very unusual. Stay safe and stay healthy.

Many will remember Phyllis Bjarnarson who passed away recently. I didn't hear what they did for a funeral but I assume it was a small private service. Funerals have had to be cut back to about 10 people so it is an especially difficult time for families. We hope that memories of happier times help through difficult days.

I had a long conversation with Carole Kubb (Yungkurt). She lived with me in Winnipeg for a little while and we have kept in touch over the years. She would like to wish everyone all the very best. She hopes that everyone is well and we will be able to see each other again before too long.

There a few Langruth people here at Centennial that also send greetings and good wishes to everyone back home at Langruth.

There isn't a great deal of news around as everyone seems to be staying close to home. What can we do when there is very little going on and we are dealing with a pandemic? We can just hope for the very best outcome. Hopefully everyone will come through this without too many problems and a vaccine will be available before too very long.

Next month we will have our Christmas Greetings and Christmas news. Please send in your greetings or leave them at the Langruth Post Office.

Until next time, be safe.

Talk to you next month, Teri Soos.
