Our lives go on without you
But nothing is the same
We have to hide our heartache
When someone speaks your name.

Sad are the hearts that love you
Silent are the tears that fall
Living here without you
Is the hardest part of all.

You did so many things for us
Your heart was kind and true
And when we needed someone
We could always count on you.

The special years will not return
When we are all together
But with the love in our hearts
You walk with us forever.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR

Vancouver Police Department Honour Ryan Bohm with a Challenge Coin

Constable 2307 Ryan Bohm passed away in 2017 at the age of 43 after battling colorectal cancer. Ryan was a hard-working and dedicated officer that worked on District 2 Team 4 of the Vancouver Police Department for his entire 13 year policing career. Members of the Vancouver Police Department who had the pleasure of knowing Ryan have decided to create a challenge coin in his memory.

Ryan, the son of Jim and Maureen Bohm, was born and raised in Langruth where he grew up on a farm. Ryan moved to B.C. to follow his girlfriend, Donna, who would later become his wife. Together they had two daughters, Adrianna and Nadia. Ryan's stories of growing up on the farm always made him the most interesting person in any room and everyone that knew him loved him.

Ryan was mentoring a junior constable when they attended a store for a call. Ryan saw a taxidermy badger inside the store and he purchased it after dealing with the incident. Ryan affectionately nicknamed the badger, Bucky, and it rode in the car between him and his partner for the remainder of the shift. Bucky quickly became a mascot for Ryan and the team throughout his battle with cancer. Badgers are known for their strength and are fearless when confronted by larger predators. This really symbolized Ryan and his battle with cancer. The back of the coin features an image of Bucky along with the Manitoba shield and the initials of his family members.

All proceeds from the sale of the coins will be donated to Cops for Cancer in memory of Ryan.

Ryan's family was honoured to receive coins in memory of Ryan.

Thank You!

In March of this year the Langruth Seniors submitted a grant application to the Big Grass Community Foundation for the purpose of sharing a meal, socializing and playing Card Bingo with our fellow seniors.

We are very pleased and happy to announce that we were successful and are the recipients of their generosity in helping our Seniors Club continue to be a service and gathering place, to welcome our seniors and to know they are not alone.

Our gratitude and thanks goes out to the Nature Notes

Submitted by Raymond O'Connor

Eared Grebe

The 'ear' for which this bird is named is a wide golden tuft of feathers behind the eyes, present only in breeding plumage. It has a more triangular-shaped head than other grebes and is the only one that has a black neck during breeding season. The neck remains dusky gray in winter – a good field mark. The slender, dark bill appears slightly upturned.

The Eared Grebe lives in pairs and family groups during the nesting season but often nests in dense colonies of up to several hundred pairs. Breeding pairs have several mutual displays, including an upright 'penguin dance' side-by-side on the water. They forage by diving and swimming under water for aquatic insects, which make up most of its summer diet. Many winter in marine environments, where shrimp like crustaceans become their principal food.

This is a gregarious bird that often gathers in large flocks in the winter. They tend to ride higher on the water than the somewhat similar Horned Grebe.

The nest is made from fresh and decayed vegetation, floating but anchored by standing vegetation. It is built by both sexes.

Incubation is 20-22 days by both sexes. The young leave the nest after the last egg hatches. They are fed by both sexes and become independent 21 days after hatching. There is one brood per year sometimes two.

Eared Grebe populations are common. They are becoming increasingly more common in the East in winter. Numbers are concentrated on lakes in the Great Basin during migration.

News from Here, There and Anywhere

Reporter: Teri Soos

Hello there. Here we are in August already. We have had quite a bit of rain again. We seem to be getting more and more rain all the time. I hear that there are some muddy roads out there. In some areas there are bridges out which will need to be fixed before the harvest season so the farmers can get their equipment to and from their fields. I would think that there should be enough hay for the winter this year if the farmers can get it put up. As far as harvest goes it is hard to say how that will go because it is a short season and we hope that everything will be ready before frost. I've heard that some of the gardens aren't doing as well as they should. Tomatoes, for instance, are not turning red as they should be by now. That could be due to the weather. One day it is hot and the next it is cool.

I heard on television about all the different tornado warnings in Manitoba. There were tornadoes two days in a row in about the same place. This past week there was a tornado around Teulon. They say it didn't do any damage but it came awfully close to someone's home. I don't think there is much you can do in the event of a tornado but get down into the basement. There have also been some hail storms which can damage property and crops. Keep listening for the weather warnings and stay safe.

I don't know if anyone found any wild berries this year. It seems like a lot of the bush has been pushed down so I don't imagine there are many wild berries left. I was surprised that the strawberries were small compared to other years because we have had quite a bit of rain. I thought they would be bigger and sweeter. I'm wondering how the chokecherries will be this year. Maybe my nephew will be able to bring me a pail.

The deer have been coming to our back yard here at Centennial Apartments. They are eating quite a bit of the things that are being put out. They aren't helping anyone trying to do some gardening. My neighbors have swiss chard and the deer really seem to like it. We haven't had any corn or cucumbers yet. My tomatoes seem to be at a standstill and aren't ripening. Hopefully one of these days soon we will get a feed.

I heard that Bryce Emerson and Kendra Crooks got married on the long weekend. They had an outdoor wedding but had a big tent for shade. It was a very hot day but at least it didn't rain on their special day. We wish this couple all the best.

Sadly there have been a few deaths in the last few months. Back in April we heard that Lucy Senton (Bott) passed away. She was the youngest of the large Bott family that used to live in Langruth. She used to write to Sharron Arksey quite often. Sharon's husband Kerry is her grand-nephew.

In the last couple years a number of funerals were postponed due to COVID restrictions. Many families who chose cremation are having funerals or celebrations of life now that they are able to have gatherings.

We heard that George Bjarnarson passed away on July 3rd. He was 90 years old. He was born George Lukus not far from my family's farm. After being orphaned at an early age, he was adopted by Bjorn and Elizabeth Bjarnarson. Bjorn (Bjarni) was one of the store keepers in town. In his younger years George helped his father at the family-owned Langruth Solo store. George and his wife Sheila lived in Winnipeg. Sheila passed away in 2004. They have three daughters, Leah, Christie and Beth.

We also heard that Tom Bales passed away on July 13th. He was a teacher for many years. He taught at Sandy Bay, Amaranth, Kelwood, Parkview Colony, Grass River Colony and Alonsa. He was both a teacher and principal. Tom was an avid dart player and shared the love of darts with his wife Bernadette, son Dwayne and grandson. Tom died suddenly after living with pancreatic cancer. The funeral was postponed after Bernadette had a fall and hurt her leg. Tom's parents lived in Gladstone so he will be buried in the Gladstone Cemetery along with his parents and other family members.

The Lyle Beaulieu family is grieving the loss of their daughter Renata. She passed away on July 22nd. She was a high school teacher in Portage and was very involved with the school and the community. Deepest sympathy to Lyle and Gloria and all their family.

To these families and anyone that we have missed we send our deepest sympathy and hope

News from Here, There ... con't

they know they are being remembered in our prayers.

Many people also put off their family birthday and anniversary celebrations due to the COVID restrictions. I hope that you have been able to have some family gatherings again. It sometimes feels odd not to have all the rules and regulations to follow. We would like to send out best wishes to anyone celebrating a birthday or an anniversary. Happy anniversary to Ernie and Lois Wilson who celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. We send them our very best for the coming future.

There are a few people that are not feeling well. I heard that Raymond O'Connor has been in the hospital in Gladstone for a few days. We wish him a speedy recovery. He might enjoy hearing from you while he is recovering. He still provides his Bird News for the newspaper. I have some more of his reports so we will be able to include the regular Bird News column while he is recovering. Marsha Soos has had a bad back for some time now. She needs our prayers for a speedy recovery so she can get back to her usual activities.

I do hope that people will be able to harvest more out of their gardens this year. The last couple years have been poor. It would be nice to have a good garden harvest again. With the higher prices in the grocery store, produce from our gardens would really help out.

We received notice today that our rent at Centennial Apartments will be going up for the coming year. This of course is not unusual but we do wish that it could stay the same or go down rather than going up.

My humming birds have come and gone. Usually about this time they are getting ready to head south again. I hope that they will be able to see the rest of the world as they make their way to their winter homes. I thought that they came a little earlier this year.

We are still waiting to hear if there will be a Fall Supper in Langruth this year. The organizing committee will need to make sure there are enough people to cook, serve and clean. I know there are a number of people who really look forward to coming to Langruth for the annual Fall

Supper. We have certainly missed it over the last two years.

Soon the children will be heading back to school. We hope that their new teachers have a good year planned with lots of learning. The last couple of years with all the disruptions must have been difficult for the children. We are hoping for a more 'normal' school year for all the children.

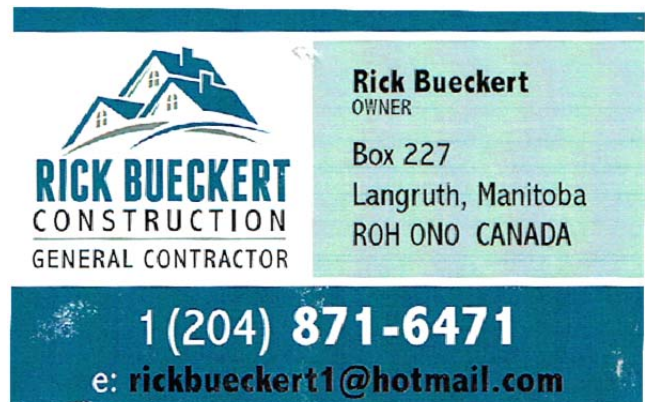

Congratulations to the Callanders on their showing at Chuckwagon Races at the Manitoba Stampede held in Morris from July 21st – 24th. Kurtis Callander placed 3rd overall, his father Ken Callander placed 7th and Richard Callander placed 10th. Great job!

There isn't a great deal more news. We have been working on puzzles here lately. Some of them are quite difficult. I won a nice bouquet of flowers a bingo. It is a nice reminder of summer.

That's all for this month. Take care.

Until next month,

This is Teri Soos

Six Little Stories with Lot of Meaning

Author Unknown

1. Once all the villages decided to pray for rain. On the day of prayer, all the people gathered, but only one boy came with an umbrella.

That is faith.

2. When you throw babies in the air, they laugh because they know you will catch them.

That is trust.

3. Every night we go to bed without any assurance of being alive the next morning, but still we set the alarms to wake us up.

That is hope.

4. We plan big things for tomorrow in spite of zero knowledge of the future.

That is confidence.

5. We see the world suffering, but still, we get married and have children.

That is love.

6. On an old man's shirt was written a sentence "I am not 80 years old; I am sweet 16 with 64 years of experience."

That is attitude.

Have a happy day and try to live life like these six stories.
