Faces to Graves Project: Recognizing Canadian Soldiers

Source: The North Shuswap Kicker, November 2022.

Article written by Jo Anne Malpass

Einar Victor Isfeld is one of 7,600 Canadian soldiers who gave their lives to liberate The Netherlands at the end of World War II and is buried in one of three Canadian war cemeteries in The Netherlands. In his pocket was the last letter he received from his young wife and a medallion with a photo of him and his wife on one side and of him and his baby son on the other.

The Faces to Graves Project recognizes soldiers who are buried at the Groesbeek Canadian War Cemetery in The Netherlands by searching for photos of the soldiers and information about them and their families.

Einar Victor Isfeld is one of those soldiers. He was born in 1915 in the Big Point area, east of Langruth. He married Jean in 1941. [Editor's note: Jean was known by her middle name, Lillian] On August 18, 1942 their only son Dennis was born. On their 600 acre farm, Einar and Jean kept 2 horses, 12 milk cows, 22 sheep, 10 chickens and other livestock.

On November 11, 1942 Einar enlisted in the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders. He spent two years training at various Canadian bases. On December 25, 1944, he departed overseas by ship out of Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. He arrived in Scotland in January 1945 and received further training in England, Belgium and Holland. On March 13, 1945 he went into active action.

His regiment was actively involved in Operation Veritable, advancing into Germany. It was the task of the Cameron Highlanders to move into the direction Neeterten, The Netherlands. It became clear that this village could not be captured without a fight, as it was at the border with Germany.

Lengthy fighting took place and on March 30, Einar was severely wounded. With a bullet wound in his stomach and a broken arm he was moved to the military hospital in Germany, where he died on April 6, 1945, one month before the end of the Second World War, at the age of 30.

[Editor's Note: Jean (Lillian) later married Harvey Parsons from Amaranth. They lived and worked in the Amaranth area for many years.]

Manitoba Hunter Safety Course Held in Langruth

On October 14th a Manitoba Hunter Safety Course was held at the Municipal Office in Langruth. Cecil Robertshaw, Kory Jonasson and Dallas Jonasson instructed the full day course with 7 students attending.

It has been a number of years since this type of course has been offered in the Langruth area. The Langruth area has some popular hunting spots, making this is an important course to have access to.

Information regarding hunting in Manitoba can be found in the 2023 Manitoba Hunting Guide at:

https://www.gov.mb.ca/nrnd/fish-wildlife/pubs/fish_wildlife/huntingguide.pdf

As detailed in the Hunting Guide, hunting licenses are required for all big game and most game bird hunting. If you wish to hunt, you must have a valid license for the species you are hunting, and you must carry the license, and any associated game tags, along with your Hunter Education Certificate with you while hunting. You are required to show the license and certificate to a Conservation Officer if asked to do so. A license and any associated game tags provide a hunter with the authority to possess big game or game birds, as well as the authority to harvest them. Once purchased, licenses cannot be exchanged or returned. It is the hunter's responsibility to ensure they are being issued the correct license.

To be eligible for a Manitoba hunting license you must be 12 years of age or older, and possess a valid Manitoba Hunter Education Certificate or equivalent from another jurisdiction or a card issued under subsection 4(4) of the Hunter Education Regulation MR 128/2007. Hunters are able to purchase licenses online or electronically at participating license retailers, as well as by telephone at 1-877-880-1203. For more information and/or to purchase a hunting license visit: www.manitoba.ca/elicensing.

The 2023 hunting season runs until December 3rd with the following classifications:

Archery: Aug 28th – Nov 12th

Muzzleloader: Oct 23rd – Nov 12th

General (Rifle): Nov 13th – Dec 3rd

News from Here, There and Anywhere

Reporters: Michelle Teichroeb and Teri Soos

Hello from Michelle Teichroeb. I didn't get to visit with Teri Soos this month as she wasn't feeling well. We send get well wishes to Teri and anyone else that is not well. Flu season is upon us. If you take vaccinations, you might consider getting flu shots.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Jess and MaryAnn Galarneau's daughter, Anita, in a traffic accident in Portage on October 21st. Our sincere condolences go out to the Galarneau family and friends in the event of this terrible loss.

Don't forget to change your clocks on the 5th. It is always an adjustment but if you are an early riser you probably enjoy the earlier sun rises. I'm not sure many enjoy the earlier sunsets.

The Langruth School PAC will be holding some events to keep us busy over the next month. Don't miss the Trivia Night and Merchandise Bingo. They will be both fun events to get out with friends and neighbors. You might even win!

Langruth School is in the process of finalizing their Remembrance Day Service. The community is welcome to attend. Watch for notice of the date and time.

The Langruth Skating Rink will soon be preparing for the 2024 season. There is interest in running a Grade 5 – 10 rec hockey team again. Is there interest in a Grade 4 and Under team? It would be great to have a couple local teams.

Soon it will be time to get ready for Christmas. Christmas Greetings will be included in the next issue. Contact Phyllis with your greeting or drop it off at the Langruth Post Office. The Annual Tree Lighting with caroling, cookies and hot cocoa is planned for November 24th to get into the Christmas spirit.

Good luck to all those that enjoy hunting. The season will end on December 3rd and the Annual Game and Fish Banquet will be held on December 9th.

Watch notice of upcoming local events in the December issue of the Langruth Views. Forward us news and events that can be included.

Take care,

Michelle Teichroeb

Langruth Centennial Committee Donates to Community Hall

Langruth celebrated the town's Centennial from July 31st to August 2nd, 2009. As Teri Soos wrote in the August 2009 Issue of the Langruth Views, "Wasn't That a Party!"

The weekend started with registration at the school on Friday night. Displays of town memorabilia were set up for all to enjoy. Legion members served Pork on a Bun for the Friday evening meal and then served a Pancake Breakfast on Saturday morning. The streets were lined with people Saturday morning for the Centennial Parade. There were over 50 floats of a great variety of entries in the parade. Pictures of many of the entries can be found on Walter Arkseys web site at:

https://langruthnews2009.tripod.com/Langruth_News_2009.html

Beginning of the Langruth Centennial Parade

After the parade, the opening ceremonies were held at the sports grounds and began with a short speech by Chairman Ted Jonasson. Reeve Philip Thordarson then gave a brief history of the community. Following a few more speeches, G.W. Langdon's sons, Bill and Bud Langdon, declared the celebration officially open.

The centennial celebration also marked the first copies of the latest history book being available. The first copy was auctioned off by Cecil Robertshaw and was purchased by Margaret Wilson and family.

On Saturday afternoon a Centennial Tea was held at the Langruth Community Hall. Fina Lasson, Langruth's oldest citizen at the time, was honored to cut the centennial birthday cake.

The Amazing Race was also a highlight of Saturday afternoon. Teams were given 2 hours to collect a variety of items from various places around the Langruth area.

Saturday evening supper was a delicious pork dinner meal prepared by Danny's Whole Hog BBQ. Over 600 meals were served. Saturday night ended with a dance in the arena with an overflowing crowd.

A Pancake Breakfast and Non-Denominational church service started the day on Sunday. Many attended the dedication of two cairns Sunday afternoon. One was the North Lakeland School Cairn where a number of teachers who had taught there were honoured. The other was a cairn dedicated in honour of Walter Arksey and Timothy Wilson. Both men gave their lives while in service.

The Sunday evening meal was a Beef Dinner which was followed by a Free Stage Concert with many local and former residents performing. The grand finale of the weekend was a wonderful fireworks show that lasted at least 30 minutes.

The Langruth Centennial Committee, with Chairperson Ted Jonasson and countless community volunteers, was dedicated to hosting a very memorable centennial celebration and that it certainly was.

Now, 14 years later, a number of committee members met to discuss closing the event's bank account. After much discussion on where the remaining funds should be directed, the committee decided to donate the remaining $973.86 to the Langruth Community Hall which is operated by the Langruth Rec. Committee.

Centennial mugs, pins and history books are still available for purchase. All sales will go to the Langruth Rec. Committee to be used at the hall. Contact Lynne at 204-445-2254 if you are interested in purchasing any of these memorabilia.

American Tree Sparrow

After nesting near the frigid tundra regions, flocks of these sparrows migrate south and can be found primarily in the United States during the winter. Sometimes they travel in flocks of thirty-five to forty birds, but often smaller. They scout out food supplies and willingly come to outdoor feeders. Males often winter farther north than females and juveniles. These birds spend their summer in open landscapes and their winters near the forest edge.

Males sing during courtship and also to claim territory. They are typically in pairs on breeding ground and in flocks in winter. They are relatively tame and conspicuous.

Juveniles have paler upper parts and streaking on the head, breast and sides.

The American Tree Sparrows forage for food by scratching on the ground, foliage or snow. They eat mostly seeds. They also eat insects and caterpillars in summer, as well as some berries and catkins of willow. They are fairly common in weedy fields, open areas of brush and scattered trees.

The nest of the American Tree Sparrow is built of stems, bark pieces, moss and grass with a lining of feathers, fur and hair. It is a top a clump of grass or moss, rarely low in a shrub or tree. The nest is 30 cm to 1.5 m above the ground and is built by the female.

Incubation is 12-13 days by the female. The young are brooded by the female and remain in the nest for 8-10 days. They are fed by both sexes. The American Tree Sparrow has 1 brood per year.

A Learning Experience Regarding Municipal E-Service Requests

Submitted by Phyllis Thordarson

We recently submitted E-Service requests online to the municipal website and wondered if they had gone through as we didn't receive confirmation. I contacted the municipal office and found out that no requests had been received and yes, I should have received a confirmation. I resubmitted the requests and did receive a confirmation after each request. Also, please make sure if you attach a file it is in the proper format as there are required file types to choose from. So please learn from our experience and make sure you get confirmation when submitting a request.
