Coffee and Dessert Night with Talent Auction Fundraiser

The Grace Lutheran Church and Langruth United Church held their annual fundraiser on February 26th, 2024 with about 25 people in attendance. Attendance was down slightly due to a winter storm that had blown in that afternoon.

A wide variety of donated items were auctioned off by Tyler Slawinski in support of the two local churches. The auction items often sell for prices considerably above their value with the understanding that it is a fun way to make a yearly donation. Auction items included a variety of casseroles, pizzas, soups, baking, desserts, eggs, meat packs and fish. Approximately $5800.00 was raised and will be shared between the two churches.

Desserts and coffee were served after the auction. Everyone enjoyed the evening visiting with neighbors and friends. Thank-you to everyone who contributed in any way to this successful fundraiser.

LANGRUTH REC COMMITTEE AG AUCTION

Coming in April!

A great selection of agricultural related items and more will be auctioned off in support of the Langruth Community Hall and Langruth Skating Rink.

Langruth Rec Committee Hosts Annual Curling Bonspiel

On February 17th the Langruth Rec Committee hosted the 6th Annual Curling Bonspiel at the Langruth Skating Rink. Eight teams from the local area and surrounding communities participated. The A-Side and B-Side winners were:

A-Side 1st Place ($200): Heather Davey

A-Side 2nd Place ($160): Kyle Armstrong

B-Side 1st Place ($120): Kristine Tapley

B-Side 2nd Place: JoAnne Kleemola

The Blind Calcutta was sold out with a payout of $100 going to Murray James and $80 going to Heather Davey.

Everyone enjoyed the day curling and visiting with friends and neighbors. Proceeds from the curling bonspiel, canteen and cash bar will go towards the operation and maintenance of the skating rink. Thanks to all the volunteers and everyone that participated and attended in support of the Langruth Skating Rink.

A-Side 1st Place: Marcia Rinn, Heather Davey, Kaitlyn Davey, Tyrell Czeranko

A-Side 2nd Place: Corey James, Sierra Adams, John Kleemola, Kyle Armstrong

B-Side 1st Place: Louise Blair, Russ Tapley, Kristine Tapley, Graham Tapley

New Lighting at Langruth Skating Rink

The Langruth Rec Committee is excited to announce that the Langruth Skating Rink was selected to receive new lighting through the Efficiency Manitoba, Community Rink Lighting Initiative. Work to replace all lighting within the arena to energy efficient LED lighting began on February 28th and was finished on March 4th.

Efficiency Manitoba is a Crown corporation committed to achieving significant annual energy savings targets by offering cost-effective programs and services to Manitobans. The legislated mandate is to develop and support energy efficiency initiatives that will reduce provincial consumption of electricity by 1.5% and natural gas by 0.75% annually.

The Community Rink Lighting Initiative aimed to help communities throughout the province reduce their energy bills and operating costs. Up to $2 million in funding was provided to ice rink facilities for energy-efficient lighting upgrades. Eligible projects received 100% of lighting and associated labour costs.

The new lighting is a great upgrade to the community facility. All the lighting on the ice surface, in the lobby, in the basement change rooms and outside in the parking lot was replaced with the LED lighting. Through the Efficiency Manitoba Initiative there was no cost to the Langruth Rec Committee or the Municipality for this work. All areas are certainly a lot brighter! You won't be able to not notice the change the next time you are at the skating rink.

Nature Notes

From the Archive of Raymond O'Connor

Canvasback

A sloping profile from the front of its crown to the tip of its long dark bill distinguishes this bird. It is one of the largest and heaviest ducks in North America. At a distance the male appears white with a black rear and breast. The long neck and head are rich rust-red. The female is grayer with a rusty tint to the neck and head.

The Canvasback is a wary species that often rafts well away from the shoreline. It flies high, frequently in formation and dives deeply to feed on aquatic vegetation and mollusks.

The nest is built by the female. It is made of dead vegetation lined with down and placed in marsh stands of vegetation above water and sometimes on dry ground.

Incubation is 23-29 days by the female. The young are tended by the female and take their first flight at about 56 – 60 days. They have 1 brood per year.

Nesting habitat loss is primarily blamed for a decline in population. Reduction in hunting pressure and development of nesting habitats may have stabilized populations.

Langruth Skating Club Holds End-of-Season Wind-Up

The Langruth Skating Club had a great season with 10 eager skaters registering for lessons/activities and 11 skaters registering for youth rec hockey. Skating Lessons were instructed by Michelle Teichroeb and Rec Hockey coached by Clinton Winters and Martin Czeranko.

Children taking part in Skating Lessons enjoyed the many games and activities to improve their skating skills. The Rec Hockey team hosted Glenella on February 29th and traveled to MacGregor, Austin and Glenella for games this season.

Due to unpredictable weather the End-of-Season Wind-Up was held on February 23rd. Skating Club members received a certificate and coupon for the canteen.

Thank-you to everyone that participated this season. Happy skating!

News from Here, There and Anywhere

Reporter Michelle Teichroeb

Hello Everyone. What a winter it has been! It seems like we have had either above normal temperatures or storms. I wouldn't think that there have been too many years with above freezing temperatures at the beginning of February.

I spoke to Teri Soos recently. She is doing well and says 'hello'. Teri told me that she enjoyed listening to some gospel music that was part of the entertainment at Third Crossing Manor. She is also playing some bingo and watching curling on television.

Teri told me that Flora Roulette, who is also living at Third Crossing, celebrated her 99th birthday. Flora was a long time resident of Langruth. We also heard that Paul Oswald turned 100 years old. Paul ran the Shell gas station in Langruth for many years. I remember Paul from seeing him driving to the lake to go ice fishing every day through the winter. He is a person who likes to keep busy and active to this very day. I also heard that Florence Mulvena turned 96 on February 21st. She and her husband Jack lived in the Big Point area until about 2001. Frankie Lasson celebrated a birthday back in January. I heard there was a nice celebration at the Paris Café in Gladstone for the occasion. His nephew Rob Lasson also celebrated a birthday turning 50. Lastly, Brad Huyber, David and Sylvia's son, celebrated a birthday as well. Happy birthday to anyone and everyone that has celebrated a birthday recently. If you would like a birthday mentioned in this column please let me know.

Unfortunately alongside my list of birthdays I have a list of people that have passed away recently. Back on December 27th Tom Kubb passed away. He was married to Carole Yungkurt who was raised in Langruth. They lived in Pitt Meadows B.C. I also heard that Robert Waterson's sister, Maggie Roulette, passed away on February 4th. Maggie grew up in the Langruth area and then moved to Amaranth. On February 10th Blanche McLeod of Westbourne passed away. Blanche was Rena Arksey's sister and grew up in the Big Point area going to school at Big Point and Langruth schools. Lastly, Asgar Sigurdson passed away on February 14th. Asgar and his wife Doris lived and farmed in the Lakeland area until moving to Woodside in retirement. Asgar was very active in the local community. Deepest sympathy to these families on the loss of their loved ones. To anyone that has lost friends or family recently we hope your happy memories help you through the coming days.

We hope that the final days of winter treat you well. I'm not sure how long the skating rink will be open with the warmer weather on the horizon but while it is cool I hope that you can enjoy some skating. We did have a nice curling bonspiel even though the ice got quite heavy in the afternoon.

I heard that commercial ice fishing had to wrap up early this year due to the quotas being filled. I assume that people can still go ice fishing with a regular angling license. Spring will be here before we know it.

Feel free to send me some news for the next issue of the Langruth Views!

Take care, Michelle Teichroeb

thank you

A big thank-you to all those who attended my birthday celebration in Gladstone at the Paris Café. A special thank-you to Rob and Bryan Lasson who arranged everything.

Thanks for all the gifts and birthday cards. Rob and Alana gave me a new bed complete with all the blankets and covers required.

Those attending were as follows. From Portage, Joe and Lydia Johnson, Michelle and Joe Leslie, Shannon Huyber and Jason Airlie, as well as Ida Smith. From Winnipeg, Chris Johnson and from Brandon, Barry and Brenda Arksey and Brad Huyber and Jordan Stewart and their daughter Peyton. From Langruth, Robert Thompson, Philip Thordarson, Kevin Johnson, Stephen Soos, David and Sylvia Huyber, Harald Behrendt and Donna Huyber. Thanks for the gift card Harald and Donna.

A big thank-you to the staff at the Paris Café for the delicious meal and to Rob for the Icelandic Vinarterta.

Much appreciated. Thanks again.

Frankie

Happy Birthday Frankie!

A Manitoba Woman

Submitted by Rosemarie Carriere

Written by Jessie Yungkur, Awarded 1st Prize in the Manitoba Women's Institute Competition, 1988

Pulling her black felt tam further over her ears, she called out "It's just a beautiful winter day." The sun was shining. It was almost thirty below with a strong wind blowing. But this is how this lady thought of life – "beautiful."

Born on January the twenty-fifth 1895 near Reston, Manitoba, of hardy Icelandic stock Sigrun Oddson had weathered many a cold day.

Now in her ninetieth year, almost blind, she was off for her daily walk for the mail. As often as not there was none for her, but she delivered it to all the old people. The mail wasn't as important as the people she met along the way.

Sigrun, or Runa as she was lovingly called, wanted to hear the latest news. Some folk said "She is just nosey." Those who knew her better understood. She was interested in the welfare of her neighbors, usually the first to welcome a new resident to our village, ready and willing to visit the sick, the lonely and the bereaved.

Life for Runa had been no bed of roses. Left fatherless, she became a hired girl when only thirteen, to supplement the family income. A diligent worker, she earned her meager pay and the respect of all her employers.

In 1920 she came with her husband Oddar to build a cottage in Langruth, Manitoba. This was to be her home the remainder of her life. Here they were blessed with a son and daughter. They grew to adults under strict but loving conditions.

Times were hard. Runa was the breadwinner. She was caretaker of the bank and the community hall, the former for over twenty years. Electricity and plumbing were nonexistent so there was coal and ashes to shovel and water to carry. She turned her hand to any job to earn a dollar, often returning home bone weary to face baskets of clothes to be ironed. Late into the night with deft hands, the iron sped over the wrinkles. Before retirement she had scrubbed more floors, washed more clothes on the old scrub board than any person in her community.

Her family was not neglected; with love she taught them self-reliance. She patiently nursed her husband until his death in 1958. Saddened by her loss and lonely, she now took time to visit her children and grandchildren often awarding them with gifts for special occasions. Runa lived to attend their weddings and to welcome great grandchildren.

Runa loved to be where the action was. Whenever there was a social event you could count on her presence. How she loved to dance, whirling through the intricate steps of old time dancing. She found time to curl in bonspiels. When most people her age were rocking chair victims, she donned her skates for an evening of fun. Some envied her vitality, others marveled at her agility. Once, long past retirement age, she walked seven miles in a walk-a-thon. Declaring at the finish line, "I'm not one bit tired."

Years before her retirement, she carefully planned her work to afford time to belong to organizations. She joined the Lutheran Church Ladies Aid, The Order of the Royal Purple and her beloved Women's Institute which she served faithfully for sixty-seven years. They each had a special place in her life. She gave generously of time and talent. She rarely missed a local meeting and travelled to seminars and conventions. Runa was quick to reprehend members who gave weak excuses for their absence. She firmly believed come rain or shine, if you are a member, you attend in both body and spirit.

All who knew her would admit she had a sharp tongue. It did mellow some with age. An individual who called a spade a spade and bore the consequence.

I never heard her complain. She would find a way to put a disappointment to good use.

A Fall Fair is held yearly in Langruth. Runa was a regular exhibitor. From her garden she gathered prize winning entries. Being a renowned baker, one year she baked a raisin pie. The top crust was lattice, so deftly shaped and browned it would have been the envy of any celebrated baker. Off she went to the fair. But on arrival was told there was not section for lattice crust pies. "What, no lattice crust?" said the astonished Runa. "It's unbelievable. I should have read the prize list more carefully." With a snort and a toss of her snowy head, she turned on her heel. "I'll take may pie to Bill Hall," she said. "He won't object to a lattice crust."

The community made extravagant plans for Runa's ninetieth birthday. But they hadn't counted on the weather. The morning greeted them with a vicious storm. It had to be cancelled. A few hardy souls made it to her home, laden with goodies including the birthday cake. It was a devastating disappointment for the whole community, but not quite so for our birthday lady. When the small party ended, Runa said, in her matter of fact way, "Thank you all for coming and spread this news. My home is open house for all who wish to celebrate my birthday." News in a village spreads like wild-fire. Before the week had ended she had entertained friends and relatives from far and near. "You see," she said, "I've had a whole week of birthday fun. Thanks to a Manitoba blizzard."

So Runa continued to live her life, now with failing eye sight. Deprived of handicrafts, she found pleasure in telephone visits and the radio. But she remained strong in spirit and body. She refreshed her spiritual needs at church each Sunday. Her body with plain wholesome food, recommending a glass of milk and a banana as a bed-time snack. Keeping always before her the code she had lived by. "Hard work never hurt anyone."

In the early fall of 1987, we began to notice a changed in our dear friend. She grew tired from her daily walks. At long last she complained to her family of the stomach pains she had borne all summer. A visit to the doctor brought us the dreaded news. She had terminal cancer. With her true indomitable spirit, Runa said, "I've had a good life. I am prepared to go."

God called her to eternal rest on October seventeenth. A huge crowd gathered to pay tribute to a lady who sincerely had lived for home and country. We stop at the grave, ankle deep in the new fallen snow. A shiver crept through my body. Then the sun shone out, and I thought I heard Runa say, "It's just a beautiful day."

In Memoriam

In loving memory of mom and dad,
Josephine (Fina) and Joseph Lasson.
They were married in Winnipeg on November 25, 1939.

If all the world was mine to give, I would give it yes and more to see their loving smiles again and greet them at my door.

They never failed to do their best.

Their hearts were true and tender.
They toiled hard for those they loved,
then left me to remember.

Gone from me those smiling faces,
those pleasant cheerful ways in happy
bygone days.

Sincere and kind in heart and mind.

What beautiful memories they left behind.

Always remembered and sadly missed,

Frankie
